"The Point of Research may Occupy a long Time to be Expressed at length in Brief Phrase."

1146051

Unfolded - 1000 (4 parts)

The MARRIAGE REFERENCES which follow on the next page are mainly from the courts of record of Maryland and Virginia. As has been explained in the first bulletin of this series, a very large part, probably the greater part, are taken from the records of wills, deeds of conveyance, and the miscellaneous details to be found in the probate courts and in the papers connected with chancery proceedings. For want of space and in order to curtail the expense of publication, it has been necessary to make the "documentation" extremely brief. Experienced searchers will know that "A-20" means volume A, page 20, and will note it down, perhaps to follow with their own reading of the original record; or they will call upon the Clerks of the Courts, who sometimes "sit up and take notice"... and sometimes don't.

Other readers will be perfectly satisfied with the mere fact that the statement is in print, while still others may find themselves in difficulties when the registrar or regis-tress asks "Where did you get this?" so that it is advisable to carefully note the reference, county and volume and page. Those who choose to follow up the search in person may or may not find it enjoyable to visit...say, Grayson county, Virginia; Stokes county, North Carolina, or Liberty county, Georgia. It is in these treks that the real tang of research lies for some of us.

These references are intended as a guide for your help, and as possibly pointing the way to some obscure paragraph touching an ancestor, especially an ancestress.

The abbreviations of the names of the counties and of the titles of the record volumes in the preceding list are the same as those used in the COUNTY COURT NOTE-BOOK, and the first number of ANCESTRAL PROOFS & PROBABILITIES, by this compiler. It may be as well to set them down here for the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with those publications. They are roughly classified geographically.

On the Eastern Shore of Virginia, Acco and N-n are Accomack and Northampton; on the same side of the Bay, but in Maryland, Dor is Dorchester; Wor, Worcester; Som, Somerset;

Talb, Talbot; Car, Caroline; Q. A., Queen Anne's; Kent and Cecil are not abbreviated. Northerly are Balto, Baltimore; Harf, Harford. Across the Bay A. A. is Anne Arundell; Chas, Charles, St. M's, St. Mary's. In northern and western Maryland are Montg, Montgomery; Fred'k, Frederick (also in Virginia); Wash'n, Washington (also in Virginia); Cumb, Cumberland (also Virginia), and Alleg, Allegheny. Pr. Geo's or P. G., Prince George's, on the Potomac. In Virginia the county is called Prince George.

Delaware, on the ocean side of the Eastern Shore, has N. C., Newcastle; Sus, Sussex, and another Kent.

In the Northern Neck of Virginia are Ldn, Loudoun; Fauq, Fauquier; Pr. Wm, Prince William; Staff, Stafford; K. Geo., King George; Wmld, Westmoreland (also in Pennsylvania); Nthld, Northumberland; Lanc, Lancaster; and Rehmd, Richmond. In Tide-Water Virginia and about the James, are Middx, Middlesex; York and Essex; E. C., Elizabeth City county; Norf, Norfolk [in early records Lower Norfolk]; Surry and Sus, Sussex, also Pr. A., Princess Anne; S-n, Southampton; on the north of the James, K. Wm, King William; J. C. City, James City county, and New Kent. C. C., Chas City county; Hen, Henrico, and westerly Fluv, Fluvanna; Louisa; Gchld, Goochland; Alb, Albemarle; Amherst. [Other counties of this general section: Camp, Campbell; Pow, Powhatan; Amelia; Chest, Chesterfield; P. E., Prince Edward. Less familiar are Pits or Pitsyl, Pitsylvania; Lunen, Lunenburgh; Meckl, Mecklinburgh; Henry and Frank, Franklin.

The Valley counties, or thereabouts, are Shenan, Shenandoah; Rock'm, Rockingham; Rockbr, Rockbridge; Aug, Augusta, Or, Orange; others can be easily identified. In the far corner is Gray, Grayson.

From the foregoing examples it is thought that the abbreviated names of the counties of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, the Carolinas and Georgia will be readily understood.

---000---

Emphasis must again be placed upon the fact that the dates given are merely (in most cases) the date of the record from which the marriage is inferred. Touching the variations in the spelling of names, it need hardly be said that the compiler is not responsible.

There are some repetitions in this list, some are accidental, others are given an additional reference. A dozen or two were wrongly alphabetized in Bulletin No. I, and have been re-arranged in this.

A number of copies of these valuable compilations are still to be had.

Address Mrs. H. R. Nottingham, Onancock, Virginia.

CAVALIER and PIONEERS, by Nell Marion Nugent,
State Land Office, Richmond, Virginia.

Any attempt to praise this outstanding Virginia work (of which volume two is about ready) would be but faint praise, indeed. There is nothing in southern publications to equal it.

The HISTORY of the VIRGINIA NAVY of the REVOLUTION

By Robert Armistead Stewart, Richmond, Virginia.

Another scholarly volume, carefully thought and worked out, of which there have not been over many in the period.

If you have books or papers to be restored, write to the - EMORY RECORD PRESERVING COMPANY, Taunton, Massachusetts, leaders in this work.
